Dear Souradeep,

Greeting from IDP !

We would like to inform you that, unfortunately, your computer-delivered IELTS test scheduled for 23rd September in Kolkata has been cancelled due to heavy rainfall in the city. However, we are offering you a complete test date transfer at no extra charge.

To proceed with the test date transfer, kindly follow these steps:

- Visit our website at www.ieltsidpindia.com and log in to your candidate account.
- On the homepage, locate the "Transfer" tab and click on it.
- You will find the test date transfer link.
- Use the link to transfer your test date to any future available test date, free of charge.

Please make sure to use the transfer link no later than 25-September to secure your preferred test date. If the link is not utilized by this date, a new test date will be automatically assigned to you.

We apologize for any inconvenience caused by this situation and greatly appreciate your cooperation. If you have any further questions or require assistance, please do not hesitate to reach out to us.

For further assistance, please reply to us and we will be more than happy to help you.

Regards,
Team IDP IELTS
